Tulip Oxford

The classic red Oxford tulips are a stylish addition to every landscape. Their bright red petals set off against the green foliage, creating an astonishing contrast of colors. Combine the Oxford tulips with other tulips of different colors in our assortment for an amazing display of color. The strong wholesale tulip bulbs are professionally grown to decorate landscapes for several years.

Planting tulips

Tulips are plants that do not require much tending to, making them ideal for landscaping. Tulip bulbs are easily planted in the following manner:

- The Oxford tulip bulbs should be planted four inches in fertile soil and approximately two inches apart from one another;
- Plant the flower bulbs in a spot with moderate to high sunshine. The flowers prefer a spot in the sunlight, but also bloom very well in half shade;
- The flowers should be planted before the first frost, somewhere between September and December, dependent on the area.

Laying in the ground, they can withstand the frost. After planting them, they will bloom mid-spring.

Wholesale flower bulb supplier
